The last two above indentures (deeds) were recorded on behalf of the orphans of Nathan Smith by Thomas Tench, who was one of the persons mentioned above as receiving payment from the estate of Richard James.

In the 1669 and 1703 documents, this land was called James His Chance; in the other two it was called Thornton's Park.

1707 rent roll for Dan shows:

290 acres Thomas Tench, Esq., for Nathan Rigby

100 acres John Turner in right of his wife, relict of Richard James

100 acres Abraham Symons

Identifying John Turner is probably not possible. Skordas shows 12 men named John Turner who came into Maryland in the 1600s.

1. Mary James; m/1 3 Nov 1694 to Teague Tracey; d. by 18 Jun 1712 Baltimore Co.; m/2 by 22 Jul 1713 George Hitchcock; d. 1747; children from St. James Parish and Baltimore County Families:

| 1-1 Dinah Tracey, b. 1695 | 1-4 Teague Tracey, b. 1702 |
| 1-2 Sarah Tracey, b. 1698 | 1-5 ?Basil Tracey |
| 1-3 James Tracey, b. 1700 | 1-6 Mary Tracey |
| 1-7 Pretiosa Hitchcock | |

The Tracey children are followed under their father's family in another section. Mary James was probably the mother of all the above children.

Will of GEORGE HITCHCOCK, Baltimore Co.; written 23 Aug 1747; probate 4 Nov 1747

To grand-son George Tye, my dwelling plantation house, mills and improvements, and for want of hrs., to his sisters (?), Elinor Tye

To grand-dau. Elinor Tye, 50 acres conveyed to me by Wm. Knight, granted to Knight and called Knight's Addition

To grand-son George Tye, slaves

To grand-dau. Susannah Tye

To son and dau. John and Presoscia Tye

Exs. Wife Mary Hitchcock and son-in-law John Tye

Relix Carter; (5) Samuel, bp. Banbury,

Oxfordshire, Eng., 20 Aug., 1615, came early to Weth. (from Ipswich, Mass.,

where his name first appears on rec.

1639.) But the B. genealogy makes it quite clear that his removal to Weth.

was in 1641 and intimates a possibility that his wife Mary Betts, whose mother was "the widow" Betts, of Hild., "school dame" in that town, may have been a second wife m. at Hartford, his first having d. at Ipswich. His wife was Mary

(du. of John & Mary) Betts, of Claydon, Oxfordshire, Eng., from which place they undoubtedly emig. to America—as William Boardman (6th in gen. from the Settler) had in his possession a letter written from that place, in 1641, to

Samuel Boardman, from his mother; of which the following is a copy from the original in possession of Mr. Wm. F. J. Boardman, of Hartford, Conn.:

"Good Sonne. I have received yo^r letter, whereby I understand that you are in good health, for weh. I give God thanks, as we are all, prayesd be God for the same: whereas yo^r desire is to see yo^r brother Christopher with you he is not provided for so great a journey, neither doe I think that he dare take upon him so dangerous a voyage. Yo^r five sisters are all alive & in good health & remember their love to you. Yo^r Father hath been dead almost this two yeares

& thus troubling you noe further at this time, I rest, praying God to blesse you and yo^r wife unto whome we all kindly remember o^r loves

Mr. Boardman received large grants of ld. at Weth. both from the Town and also from the Indians, by each of whom he seems to have been greatly trusted and respected. (See Chapt. VII. Vol. I.) A portion of the land (30 acres) which he had from the Town, Jan., 2, 1649-50, was at the S. end of the present Rocky Hill, being the first piece of ld. at

1--RICHARD.

Yarmouth, Mass.

By one account he was born at Amsterdam, Holland, in 1618. His wife is believed by some to have been Dorothy Batts, sister of Christopher Batts.

1633, 3, 25. Plymouth, Mass. Taxed 9s. This tax was rated in corn at 6s. per bushel.

1638, 1, 1. Marblehead. Taxed there and same year granted "8 acres land where he had formerly planted."

1643. Yarmouth. His name was in a list of those able to bear arms, between ages of 16 and 60 years.

1647, 10, 20. He made complaint to Court at this date, against three Indians; Nepoytan, Sachamas and Felix.

1652. Grand Jury, and next year Freeman.

1658, 3, 1. He and Anthony Thatcher and two others, were appointed by the Court, to levy upon such of their neighbors of Yarmouth, as should neglect to pay their proportion of a Rate of £50; which was to be the annual stipend of a minister, then about to be appointed for Yarmouth. The town was given the liberty to choose four men to perform this duty; but if the town failed to appoint any persons to make the levy, then the above four should act.

1662. Deputy.

Hon. David Sears of Boston, made provision (as is seen N. E. Gen. Reg. Vol. 26, p. 182) for all descendants of Richard Sears, in the male line, to have medals.

1667, 3, 10. Will, Codicil, 1676, 2, 3, proved 1676, 3, 5. Ex., wife Dorothy. Witnesses, Anthony Thatcher, Anthony Frey; and to codicil John Thatcher, Judah Thatcher. To youngest son Silas, all the upland on the Neck where his house stands, after mine and my wife's decease; provided, that the son-in-law of testator, Zachary Paddock, shall have and enjoy two acres about his house that he now lives in, and which was within the aforesaid tract of land. This two acres, Zachary Paddock was to have during the life of his wife Deborah. To son Silas, he also gives meadow land between the Neck of upland and Sasuett Harbor River, and one-half another parcel of land called Robins. To elder son Paul, all the rest and remainder of my lands both upland and meadow after mine and my wife's decease. To wife Dorothy, all his lands, cattle and goods for her life. "And I do entreat my brother Thatcher with his two sons, as friends in trust, to see this my last will performed." Son-in-law Zachary to have two acres during wife's life as aforesaid, and at her decease, to go to Ichabod Paddock, who is also to have two acres of Robins.

Codicil gives to son Paul, at decease of testator's wife, "house I now live in, and my bed and the bedding thereto belonging, and my clothing and the cattle that shall be left at my wife's decease," etc.

Inventory included house and lands, £220; 5 cows, £10; 1 bull and 1 heifer, £3; 1 heifer, £1, 10s.; 5 yearlings, £5; 2 calves, £1.

Bible and other books, £1, 3s. Cape, cloak, breeches, beer barrel, bees, stillyards, etc

In the will, Richard Sears' and his children's names are spelt Sares; following closely the original spelling of the name, Sayres or Sayer.

he advocated that this church was established. He was a man of eminent ability, and became one of the most influential clergymen in his adopted city. The first permanent church organization of this denomination in this county was effected in Windsor Township.

THE CHURCH OF GOD.

An order of Baptists originated in Lancaster in 1830 under the preaching of Rev. John Winebrenner, a minister of the German Reformed Church. This denomination is Presbyterian in polity. Great earnestness and zeal were the characteristics of the early clergy of this denomination. In 1835, and shortly after, a number of congregations were formed in York County, chiefly in the upper end, by Revs. Winebrenner, Maxwell, Ross, Mulnix, Weishampel, Kiester, and others. There are now about a dozen churches of this denomination in the county, and they are located in Newberry, Warrington, Monaghan, Franklin, Warrington and Windsor Townships.

GERMAN BAPTISTS.

The German Baptists, as a church body, originated in Germany in the year 1708, during the great religious awakening of the latter part of the seventeenth and the beginning of the eighteenth centuries. They usually call themselves "Brethren," and their church "the Brethren Church." Locally they are generally called "Dunkers," from the German word "tunker," meaning to baptize or dip. This last name originated in Pennsylvania during their early history here. They do not recognize the name Dunker as appropriate to designate their church body. The originators of this denomination in Germany met and held meetings among themselves for social worship, but the embittered clergy soon caused the secular authorities to interfere. At this time, about 1695, a mild and lenient count ruled over the province of Wigenstein in north Prussia, where liberty of conscience was granted. To this place, although a poor, rough country, went many, who were aroused by a religious awakening, and who desired to consult among themselves as to church discipline and ecclesiastical polity. This province was soon known as "the rendezvous of the Lord's people." Those who collected there were first called Pietists, and all worshiped together. They then commenced to call themselves Brethren. One of the guiding points of their discipline was found in the book of Matthew, which says: "If thy brother trespass against thee, go and tell him his faults between thee and him alone." But, to fulfill this injunction, they needed some church order, and they began to seek for the footsteps of the primitive Christians. The mystery of water baptism appeared to them a door of entrance into the true church which they so earnestly sought, but they could not at once agree as to form. Finally, in 1708, eight of the most truth-loving of them agreed to enter into "a covenant of good conscience with God, by taking up all the commandments of Jesus Christ as an easy yoke, and thus follow him as their faithful shepherd."

Those eight persons were George Graby and Lucas Vetter from Hesse-Cassel; Alexander Mack, from Schriesheim and his wife Anna Margareta, Andrew Bonny, from Basle, Switzerland, and his wife Johanna, and John Kipping, from Wurtemberg, and his wife Johanna. These eight, now historic persons, "covenanted and united as brethren and sisters of Jesus Christ," and thus formed the nucleus of a church of Christian believers. They claimed, after careful investigation, that according to the commands of Christ, the primitive Christians "were planted into His death by a threefold immersion in the water bath of holy baptism, being in exact harmony with the New Testament." Trine immersion was considered by them the only correct form of baptism. Being prepared for the ceremony of baptism, they went in solitude along the little stream called Aeder, in Germany, and he upon whom the labor had fallen baptized the leading brother and he in turn baptized the rest. This interesting ceremony occurred at an early hour in the morning. In a few years there were large congregations gathered in Swartznau in the Palatinate and in Marienborn. Persecution soon followed them. These unfortunate ones found refuge under the King of Prussia. Among the prominent workers in the church in Germany about 1715, some of whose descendants now live in York County were John Henry Kalclessor, of Frankenthal; Christian Liebe (Leib), of Ebstein; Johanna Nass (Noss), of Norten; Peter Becker, of Dillsheim; John Henry Trout and several brothers; Heinrich Holsapple and Stephen Koch of the Palatinate.

This religious body suffered great persecution in parts of the fatherland. Some fled to Creyfeld, Prussia, from thence to Holland, thence to the province of Friesland, in the hope of finding an asylum of peace and safety, but were everywhere disappointed until they "turned their faces toward the land of Penn." Twenty families first emigrated, with Elder Peter Becker at their head, in 1719, and settled in the vicinity of Germanment and were spared. JAMES was out working the next day when a man came running to tell him the sad news that Pigeon Roost had been taken the night before by Shawnee Indians. Sixteen children and six women had been slaughtered. JAMES took NANCY, the fourth child, on horseback to Kentucky near Louisville to his wife's parents home--CHRISTIAN and CATHERINE SEARS. JAMES and Negro slaves took wagons back to get the rest of the family and the household goods. After peace was declared, JAMES moved his family to Washington County, Indiana, then to Monroe County in 1816 when Indiana became a state.

JAMES WRIGHT entered land in Monroe County, Indiana on September 24, 1816 in the southeast Sec. 10, 160 acres. Later he entered eight other tracts of land making a total of 1163 acres. One entry in Monroe County on September 15, 1825 was for 80 acres in Twp. 7, north of Range 2W, southeast section. The Shupokin deed was signed by President John Quincy Adams and is in the family of LILLIE WRIGHT LANE WHITE, JAMES WRIGHT's great granddaughter. JAMES WRIGHT was at one time one of the three largest tax payers in Monroe County. His farm was eight miles south of Bloomington, Indiana.

JAMES WRIGHT and family attended a log church on John Kutch's farm near the banks of Clear Creek. It was called Luther Wood Church. Later he helped build South Union Church. Many of his descendants were members of this church and are buried in the cemetery there. JAMES was a faithful member of the church, read his Bible daily and had family prayers. He played the violin and sang hymns. He enjoyed life and died at the age of 92. He was able to work until he fell and broke his hip when coming from the barn after feeding the cattle one cold winter morning. He lived for about three months after the mishap. He was buried on his farm a short distance from his brick home and rested in a plot near his first wife ELIZABETH.

Bloomington, Indiana was laid off on April 10, 1818, and on the third day of the first session, a log courthouse was ordered built, and the first jurors of Monroe County were selected. JAMES WRIGHT and JOHN KUTCH were among the selected jurors. JAMES WRIGHT was Justice of the Peace from 1818 until 1827, inclusive.

HISTORICAL NOTE

The Sears Family of Rowan County, N.C., Nicholas County, Ky., Indiana, and Missouri, is descended from JOHANNES ZAHNER, from the German Canton of Switzerland. He was a Religious Refugee, belonging to the Dunkard Church, seeking Religious Liberty in the New World. He settled with his family in Lancaster County, Pa., about 1740, lived at Ephrata for a while and removed thru Maryland to the Yadkin Valley in North Carolina where he died.

JOHANNES ZAHNER

Johannes Zahner, (pronounced t s a i r, and meaning teach in the German language, but was generally called "Sears" in English), born in Switzerland about 1710, came to Pennsylvania about 1740 with his family, and died in the Yadkin Valley, N.C., leaving at least two sons, Christian and John, probably others.

Rachel A. Sears, wife of Benjamin Sears, above, was Rachel Kern, native of Kentucky, born about 1806. William Ribble Sears, son of Michael A. Sears, above, married Anna Letta Adenson, and now resides at Milosh, Ill. He does not know the names of the parents of either Benjamin Sears or Rachel Kern.... All Sears census records of Lawrence County, 1830, can be readily identified except that of Benjamin Sears. It appears probable that further research will bear out the assumption that Benjamin Sears was the oldest son of Matthias Sears and Susannah Hest of Kentucky.

SUNDRY INTERCALARY REMARKS: ADJUDON NOTES

Before proceeding with transcribing the remaining notes on the family of David Sears, it seems to be in order to digest some notes which have just been received (May 15, 1942) from Lister Adamson, of Williams, Indiana. The Doyen of the Lawrence County Adamson Clan has spent a great deal of time within recent months, seeking information on these old Adamson, Kern, Sears and other related families by furbishing up weather-worn epitaphs in old neighborhood cemeteries. He has sent a list of birth dates on all the children of David Sears, which I believe are based on information gained from epitaphs.

The seven dates which concern the seven children of David Sears and Anna Korn, will be given herewith. The remaining dates will be incorporated with the following notes relative to the children concerned.

200 - they were Citrus

Mr. Adamson states that the twins, Peter H. and J.R. Sears, were children of Hannah ~~Adams~~, the second wife of David Sears. If the above date, April 10, 1824, is the correct date for the death of Anna Kern, it would appear that the twins were the children of Anna Kern, and that she died as the result of illness following childbirth. She was still a young woman, barely past 30 years of age.

Morris

The marriage with Hannah ^{Marx} ~~Marx~~ speedily followed the death of Anna Korn because of the stern necessity for a gentle hand to care for the seven young children, particularly the infant twins. See marriage data p. 10-

INTERESTING

Thomson
ADAMSON: Byrd D. Adamson was born in Dublin Ireland, and came to the Carolinas with his father, Alexander Adamson, prior to the Revolution, according to family tradition. He married a Quaker girl, Rachel Williams, in Jefferson County, Tennessee, about 1795, without the blessings of the church. Rachel was disowned, but later, 1797, condemned her misconduct and was restored with her children to the congregation of the righteous. Byrd D. Adamson died in Tennessee. In 1817, Rachel and her children went to Indiana.

KERN: ABRAHAM KERN, probably a son or grandson of the immigrant Abraham Kern of 1731, was a Dunkard Preacher in Nicholas County Kentucky. His son, Abraham, Jr., was also a preacher. He was born in 1783 in Pennsylvania, presumably; married Susan Wilson in Kentucky, in 1807. She also was of Pennsylvania. They went into Lawrence County Indiana in 1816 or 1817.

SEARS: Johannes Zehner, a religious refugee from Switzerland, came early to Pennsylvania, and later settled in North Carolina, where JOHN SEARS was born. He removed to Nicholas County Kentucky, prior to 1802, whence many of his children and grandchildren went into Southern Indiana early in the 19th Century.

WILLIAMS: Isaac Williams, a brother to Rachel Williams-Adamson above, was born in Surry County, N.C. in 1779. June 20, 1801, he was disowned by the Last Creek Monthly Meeting, Jefferson County, Tenn., presumably for marriage out of unity, with Amelia Gibson, a non-Quaker. In 1817, he guided his large family, together with that of his widowed sister, Rachel Williams-Adamson, to Lawrence County, Indiana. Isaac and Rachel were great-grandchildren of Richard Williams, a Quaker Immigrant of Penn's Colony.

LAWRENCE COUNTY INDIANA WAS THE MEETING POINT FOR THE DESCENDANTS OF THESE FOUR PICKER FAMILIES OF RELIGIOUS REFUGEES. THE ADAMSON-KERN-SEARS-WILLIAMS 1813 AND CIVIL ACHIEVED MANY INTERMARRIAGES.

on the Republican ticket in the fall of 1886, receiving a majority of 623 votes over his opponent, Joseph L. Boyd. He is a son of George H. Sears, who was born in Harrison County, Indiana, in August, 1818, coming to Vermillion County with his father, Jacob Sears, when a boy. Jacob Sears was a native of North Carolina, removing thence to Kentucky, and from there to Harrison County, Indiana. On coming to Vermillion County he settled in Vermillion Township, three miles southwest of Newport, where he cleared and improved a farm, on which he resided until his death. George Sears was one of the representative citizens of Vermillion County, and long one of the prominent merchants of Eugene. In 1854 he was elected treasurer of the county, but died before his first term expired, although not before he had received the nomination for a second term, the date of his death being July 30, 1856. He left at his death a widow and three sons, all living at the present time but his youngest son, George O., who died at the age of eighteen years. Robert B. Sears, whose name heads this sketch, was the eldest son in his father's family, and was born in Eugene, Vermillion County, January 6, 1844. He was about twelve years old when his father died, and after his death the family returned to the homestead farm. At the age of eighteen years our subject enlisted in Company I, Forty-third Indiana Infantry, and after serving in the ranks about a year and a half he was promoted to Orderly Sergeant, and soon after to First Lieutenant, and June 24, 1865, he was mustered out as Captain of his company. He was constantly in active service, and participated in all the engagements in which the Forty-third took part, and during the last twenty months of his service he commanded his company. on the Republican ticket in the fall of 1880, receiving a majority of 628 votes over his opponent, Joseph L. Boyd. He is a son of George H. Sears, who was born in Harrison County, Indiana, in August, 1818, coming to Vermilion County with the father, Jacob Sears, when a boy. Jacob Sears was a native of North Carolina, removing thence to Kentucky, and from there to Harrison County, Indiana. On coming to Vermilion County, he settled in Vermilion Township, three miles south-west of Newport, where he cleared and improved a farm on which he resided until his death. George Sears was one of the representative citizens of Vermilion County, and held one of the prominent offices of the county. In 1851 he was elected clerk of the county. He died before his term of office expired, although not before he had received the nomination for a second term, the date of his death being July 30, 1852. He left at his death a widow and three sons, all living at the present time but his youngest son, George O., who died at the age of eighteen years. Robert H. Sears, whose name heads this sketch, was the eldest son in the father's family and was born in August, Vermilion County, January 8, 1814. He was about twelve years old when his father died, and after his death the family returned to the home-land here. At the age of eighteen years one subject enlisted in Company I, Forty-third Indiana Infantry, and after serving in the ranks about a year and a half he was promoted to Orderly Sergeant, and soon after to First Lieutenant, and from 3d, 1865, he was promoted out as Captain of his company. He was constantly in active service and participated in all the engagements in which the Forty-third took part, and during the last twenty months of his service he commanded his company. After the war he was engaged as clerk in a was the father of seventeen children, nine of whom grew to maturity. Joseph O. Jackson, whose name heads this sketch, was reared on the home farm, and received such educational advantages as the neighborhood schools of that early day afforded, attending schools taught in log cabins with paneled floors, shapely roofs and also seats. During the late war he enlisted in Company D, Eighty-fifth Indiana Infantry, remaining in the service of his country almost three years. Among the engagements in which he participated may be mentioned the battles of Shiloh, Fort Henry, Fort Donelson and Fort Fisher. He was with the army at the last mentioned battle, which was his last engagement in which he took part. He returned to his home in Vermilion County and engaged in farming. November 6, 1867, he was married to Miss Fannie C. Brown, daughter of James A. Brown of Birmingham, Alabama. They are the parents of eight children—James O., John H., Mr. H. C. Brown, Arthur, Adeline and Ethel C. Mr. Jackson engaged in the general mercantile business in 1868, and now carries a capital stock of $3,000, doing an annual business of $25,000, and also deals extensively in stock and grain. He still lives on his farm, where he is engaged in farming and stock-raising. His farm contains 120 acres of fine land, and is located on section 4, 11th Township. In addition Mr. Jackson is a licensed Republican, but never seeks official honors. He is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic, and takes an active interest in that organization.

JOSEPH H. SEARS, one of the leading citizens of Vermilion, is the present State Senator of the district comprising Vermilion and Vermilion counties, having elected wholesale clothing store. In 1868 he returned to Vermillion County, and began the study of law with the law firm of Eggleston & Harvey, and in 1870 was admitted to the bar at Newport. In 1872 he was elected prosecuting attorney for the counties of Parke, Vermillion, Vigo and Sullivan, serving as such two years. In 1881 he was elected assistant secretary of the State Senate, and in January, 1883, received an appointment as clerk in the Treasury department at Washington, D. C., but on reaching that city he was transferred to the Pension and Interior department. He resigned this position six months later, and returned to his home in Newport and resumed his law practice. In 1884 he was elected to the lower branch of the General Assembly of Indiana, and, as above stated, became State Senator in 1886, in which position he is serving with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituents. Mr. Sears was united in marriage, March 20, 1870, to Miss Ivy Aston, a daughter of Ure Aston, who was a prominent merchant in the early history of Newport. He died in 1863. Four children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Sears, of whom three died in early infancy. Claud, their only surviving child, was born February 29, 1873.

PHILO HOSFORD, one of the early pioneers of Eugene Township, is a native of Ontario County, New York, born September 18, 1811, a son of Ambrose Hosford, a native of Connecticut. The father removed to Dearborn County, Indiana, with his family in 1821, settling in Lawrenceburg, and died near there in 1824. Philo Hosford came with his twin brother, Milo, to Crawfordsville in 1832, and in the spring of 1833 to Eugene, where he has since made his home. He was married November 4, 1841, to Miss Evaline Wigley, a daughter of Joseph Wigley, and of the six children born to this union three are yet living—Monroe C., Richard W. and Eliza. One son, Charles C., and a daughter, Naomi, died after reaching maturity. Mrs. Hosford died June 18, 1883. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Milo Hosford, twin brother of our subject, was married the November following his arrival in the county, to Miss Maria Holtz, and to them were born two children—Henry H., and Lucy, now the wife of Prof. David Meade, of Danville, Illinois. Mr. Milo Hosford lived at Eugene until his death, which occurred January 22, 1880. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and one of the most respected men of Vermillion County.

HOMER LUSADDER, residing on section 22, Highland Township, is one of the representative citizens of Vermillion County. His father, John Lusadder, settled on the place now occupied by the subject of this sketch, in 1856. He was born in Ohio, December 18, 1819. He resided many years in Fountain County, Indiana, before settling in Vermillion County, and was married while a resident of the former county, to Mrs. Sarah Ann (Beers) Prevost, who was born April 1, 1817, and died July 13, 1867. To them were born six children, two of whom are deceased. The names of those yet living are—Snowdon, Homer, John and Franklin. John Lusadder married for his second wife, Miss Mary J. Nabors, and to this union a daughter, named Lura, was born. He died April 4, 1872, in his fifty-third year. His widow still survives. Homer Lusadder, whose name heads this sketch, is a native of Foun-home. He was married November 4, 1841, to Miss Emily Wright, a daughter of Joseph Wright, and of the six children born to this union three are yet living—Marion C., John W. and Eliza. One son, Charles C., and a daughter, Naomi, died after reaching majority. Mrs. Wright died June 18, 1883. She was a member of the Presbyterian church. Eliza Wright, twin sister of our subject, was married the November following his arrival in the county, to Miss Maria Holt, and to them were born two children—Henry H. and Lucy, now the wife of Fred Davis. Eliza, of Corvallis, Illinois. Mr. John Holt died at Eugene near his death, which occurred January 22, 1888. He was a member of the Methodist Episcopal church, and one of the most respected men of Vermillion County.

JOHN L. HARRIS, residing on section 32, Highland Township, is one of the representative citizens of Vermillion County. His father, John L. Harris, settled on the place now occupied by the subject of this sketch in 1856. He was born in Ohio, December 18, 1819. He resided many years in Boone County, Indiana, before settling in Vermillion County, and was married while a resident of the former county, to Mrs. Sarah Ann (Hewes) Harris, who was born April 1, 1817, and died July 13, 1897. To them were born six children, two of whom are deceased. The names of those yet living are—Sheldon, Homer, John and Franklin. John L. Harris married for his second wife, Miss Mary J. Nelson, and to this union a daughter named Jane, was born. He died April 4, 1872, in the fifty-third year. His widow still survives. Homer L. Harris, whose name heads this sketch, is a native of Pennsylvania, where he was born in 1835. He removed to Vermillion County, and began the study of law with the late Dr. Eggleston at Quincy, and in 1857 was admitted to the bar at Newport. In 1872 he was elected prosecuting attorney for the counties of Jasper, Vermillion, Vigo and Sullivan, serving as such two years. In 1881 he was elected assistant secretary of the State Senate, and in January, 1883, received an appointment as clerk of the Treasury Department at Washington, D. C., but on reaching that city he was transferred to the Pension and Interior Department. He resigned the position six months later, and returned to his home in Vermillion, and resumed the law practice. In 1884 he was elected to the lower branch of the General Assembly of Indiana, and as such elected Attorney General in 1885. In which position he is serving with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituents. Mr. Harris was married in Vermillion, March 20, 1870, to Miss Ivy Auld, a daughter of Dr. Harris, who was a prominent merchant in the early history of Newport. His wife in 1863. Four children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Harris, of whom three died in early infancy. One, their only surviving child, was born February 29, 1873.

WILLIAM HOBBS, one of the early settlers of Jasper Township, is a native of Boone County, New York. Born September 18, 1811, a son of Andrew Hobbs, a native of Connecticut. The father removed to Boone County, Indiana, with his family in 1821, settling in Lawrenceburg. He died near there in 1884. John Hobbs came with his twin brother, Alby, to Lawrenceburg in 1832, and in the spring of 1833 he returned where he has since made his scenes, and has lived to see the many changes that have transformed the wilderness into the present prosperous county. He was married in 1841 to Elizabeth E. Bozart, a native of East Tennessee, born in 1819, a daughter of Henry Bozart. To this union have been born four children, three are living—Julius C., who married Louisa Wade, and has one child, Clarence; John B. married Hattie Davis, and Ella, wife of J. D. Hunter, of Illinois, has three children—Collett, Florence and Columbus. Mr. Groves started the first tile factory in the county in 1867, and has carried on this business quite extensively, employing six men the greater part of the year. Mr. and Mrs. Groves are members of the Methodist Episcopal church. In politics he affiliates with the Democratic party.

HARRY E. SANDERS, one of the active young business men of Eugene, and a representative of one of the old and honored pioneer families of Vermillion County, was born in Highland Township, this county, March 13, 1863, a son of Ezekiel Sanders, a native of the same county, his father being one of Vermillion County's early settlers. Harry E. Sanders was reared in his native county, and received his education in the common schools of his neighborhood. He worked as a farm hand until December, 1885, when he came to Eugene and established his present livery business, in which he is meeting with good success. He has now two stables, one located at Eugene and another at the railroad crossing in Cayuga, and keeps on hand nine good horses, five buggies and carriages, besides two spring wagons, and by his fair and reasonable prices and accommodating manners he has gained many customers and established a good business. Mr. Sanders was united in marriage to Miss Alice Hildren, December 30, 1886, she being a daughter of the late Charles Hildren. Mrs. Sanders was born in Fountain County, Indiana.

DANIEL SEARS, retired farmer, resides on section 4, Vermillion Township, where he owns a farm of sixty acres of land. He was born in Bourbon County, Kentucky, June 20, 1808, a son of Jacob and Mary (Huffstutter) Sears, natives of North Carolina and Pennsylvania, respectively, and both of German descent. They came to Vermillion County, Indiana, in 1830, and lived until their death on the land on which they first settled, the mother dying in 1856, aged about eighty years, and the father dying in 1859, at the age of eighty-five years. They reared a family of eight children, but three of whom are living at the present time—Daniel, our subject; Elizabeth, widow of Andrew Shoults, and Julia, widow of Manson Meriman. Daniel Sears was reared to the vocation of a farmer, and in his boyhood received such education as the farmer boys of his day. He was first married in Harrison County, Indiana, in 1831, to Miss Sarah Soppinfield, who was born in North Carolina, in 1808, and to them were born eight children, only two of whom are now living—George H., of Missouri, who married Nancy M. Alexander, and has five children, and Jackson A., of Newport, who married Rosa A. Filson, and has two children. George served three years in the war of the Rebellion, and although he participated in many hard-fought battles he returned home at the close of the war without a scratch. Mrs. Sears died in 1848, and Mr. Sears was again married in 1855, to Miss Martha Clark, born in Butler County, Ohio, in 1827, a daughter of Ezra and Nancy Clark. Mrs. Sears is a member of the Methodist Episcopal church. Mr. Sears belongs to the Christian church. Being one of the old pioneers Mr. Sears has witnessed the surrounding country change from a wilderness to its present prosperous condition, and has become well and favorably known throughout the county. In politics he is a Democrat. Postoffice, Newport.

JAMES M. NICHOLS, of Newport, is a son of William Nichols, an old and respected pioneer who settled in Vermillion Township, about 1833. The father was born in Amherst County, Virginia, May 1, 1795, and when a young man went to Mercer County, where he was married June 11, 1818, to Rhoda Martin, a native of North Carolina, born February 13, 1798. Thirteen children were born to this union, eleven of whom reached maturity, and of these only four are now living—James M., who was their eldest child; Jeremiah, Sarah and Lucinda. When the father came to this county his family consisted of his wife and seven children. They made the journey in a wagon drawn by five horses, being about three weeks on the road. The father lived in this county until his death which occurred October 11, 1876, his widow surviving until August 25, 1881. He was a man of energy and much force of character, and highly respected throughout the community in which he lived. He always followed agricultural pursuits, and at different times owned considerable land. In early life he was a Whig, and later a Republican. Both he and his wife were consistent members of the United Brethren church for many years. James M. Nichols, whose name heads this sketch, was born in Mercer County, Kentucky, June 19, 1819, and has made his home in Vermillion County, since coming here with his parents, and remembers quite well how the country looked almost sixty years ago. He was married May 11, 1843, to Miss Cassandra Arrasmith, born in Eugene Township, this county, May 25, 1824, a daughter of Alexander and Jane (Gray) Arrasmith, who were natives of Kentucky, and North Carolina respectively, the father being of German parentage. The parents of Mrs. Nichols settled in Eugene Township in 1817, and there their eight children were born four of whom are still living—Thomas G., James A., William B. and Mrs. Nichols. Mr. and Mrs. Nichols have had born to them eight children all living and married but one who died in infancy. They are as follows—Martha Jane, wife of Daniel Wise; Richard E.; Isabel, wife of Alexander Frazer; Rhoda M., wife of David Jones; Lucinda, wife of John Q. Adams; America A., wife of Joseph M. Wimsatt and George Omar. Mr. Nichols has made farming his life work although in the early days of the county he taught school about seven years. His homestead is on section 33, Vermillion Township. He also owns his father's homestead, his real estate consisting of 224 acres of land. Both he and his wife have been worthy members of the Methodist Protestant church for forty years, and all that time have taken The Telescope, the organ of that church. In politics Mr. Nichols is a Republican.

SON. JOHN WHITCOMB, one of the leading citizens of Vermillion County, and of Western Indiana, is a native of Ohio, born in Preble County, August 26, 1821, a son of Benjamin R. and Anna (Sutton) Whitcomb, the father being a native of

RESTORATION PIONEERS—The Honn Family

The pioneer name has ever burned high in the family of Hon (Honn). Comforts and indulgences of material existence have ever been of slight worth compared to the development of sturdy manhood, of fear & reverence toward God and of devotion to the preaching of his word.

The Revolutionary War had just begun when Peter Daniel Hon was born in a little Pennsylvania village. A short time before some of the neighbors had followed Daniel Boone into the wilds of Kentucky, where they were the first settlers. When Peter was but a little fellow, his parents & thier kinspeople made the jourey into that Indian frontierland. In this setting Peter grew into manhood. His one book was the Bible and this he knew from cover to cover.

For more than fifty years this sturdy pioneer served the same congregation in Kentucky without salary. On horse back he would travel for weeks at a time, stopping at every settlement to preach the gospel.

For years the name of Uncle Peter was a household word in the homes of the brethren throughout the midwest. There was always a royal welcome w waiting for him when he rode up to a log house took his well-worn Bible out of his saddlebags & came in to spend the night.

He is remembered as a man of strong faith, enthusiasm & industry.

With the lives of George Huffstutter Hon, Ulrich Hon & Matthew Morgan Hon, the three preachers, sons of John Hon of Bourbon Co. Ky., the story of the Hon family shifts to southern Indiana, where the family settled in Bradford Co. in about 1816.

George, the eldest preached the gospel in Indiana for more than forty y years, He was a magnetic speaker, always drawing a large crowd. He died at Orleans, Indiana in 1874. Ulrich also preached for many years in the vicinity of Bradford. He was a man of exceptional energy and honesty & as Squire Hon, was known & respected throughout the countryside. Matthew Hon was a tent maker. On Sundays he preached wherever he was needed. He was a remarkable Bible student. He had committed the book to memory until, on hearing a verse, he could place it correctly & recite the surrounding verses.

Peter Keithley Hon, another of the Bourbon Co. Hons, was born in 1814, When twenty-two he moved to Hilesville, Ill., where he combined duties of a blacksmith & preacher for many years. He never received a salary.

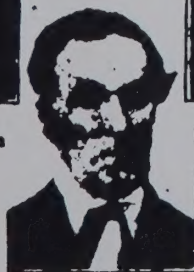

Of the three Honn preachers now at work, Daniel W. Honn is the senior He has served in churches in central Ill. & Indiana.

W. Percy & Robert Arthur Honn are sons of Andrew Honn, pioneer residents of Arcola, Ill. W. Percy Honn has made his specialty the reviving of abandoned churches in the villages near his boyhood home.

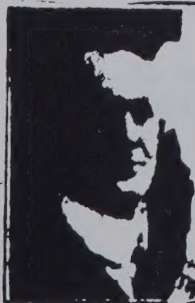

Robert Arthur Honn has been exceptionally successful in bringing men & women to the gospel.

town of Hindsboro, Ill. Later, he bought a lot in the village. It was on 23 May, 1874, on that lot, that Enoch SEARS d., while digging a well. Margaret died 10 Jan 1893, at the home of her only son Stephen Sears.
One of his daughters, Maude Sears Strader often talked about her Granny Sears. She was quite a society lady around Hindsboro, she carried calling cards, which she left at the homes she visited. She also had a trick knee which would slip out causing Granny to fall to the ground.
Granny had a little verse about her children, which she enjoyed repeating to her grandchildren:

Penelope, Lovine,
Jane & Adeline,
Steve & Catherine,
Josephine--- & they're all mine.

Dear Charlene,

I was wondering if you could help me with my Honn line as it relates to my Sears family? I am trying to find the parents of Mary Honn who married Jacob Sears. John Sears, father of George Sears, is a brother to my Jacob Sears. I have enclosed a pedigree chart and a group sheet.

I have seen a lot of research that has been done on the Honn family, but I can find the parents for Mary. I would appreciate very much any help you can give me. Thank you.

Sincerely,

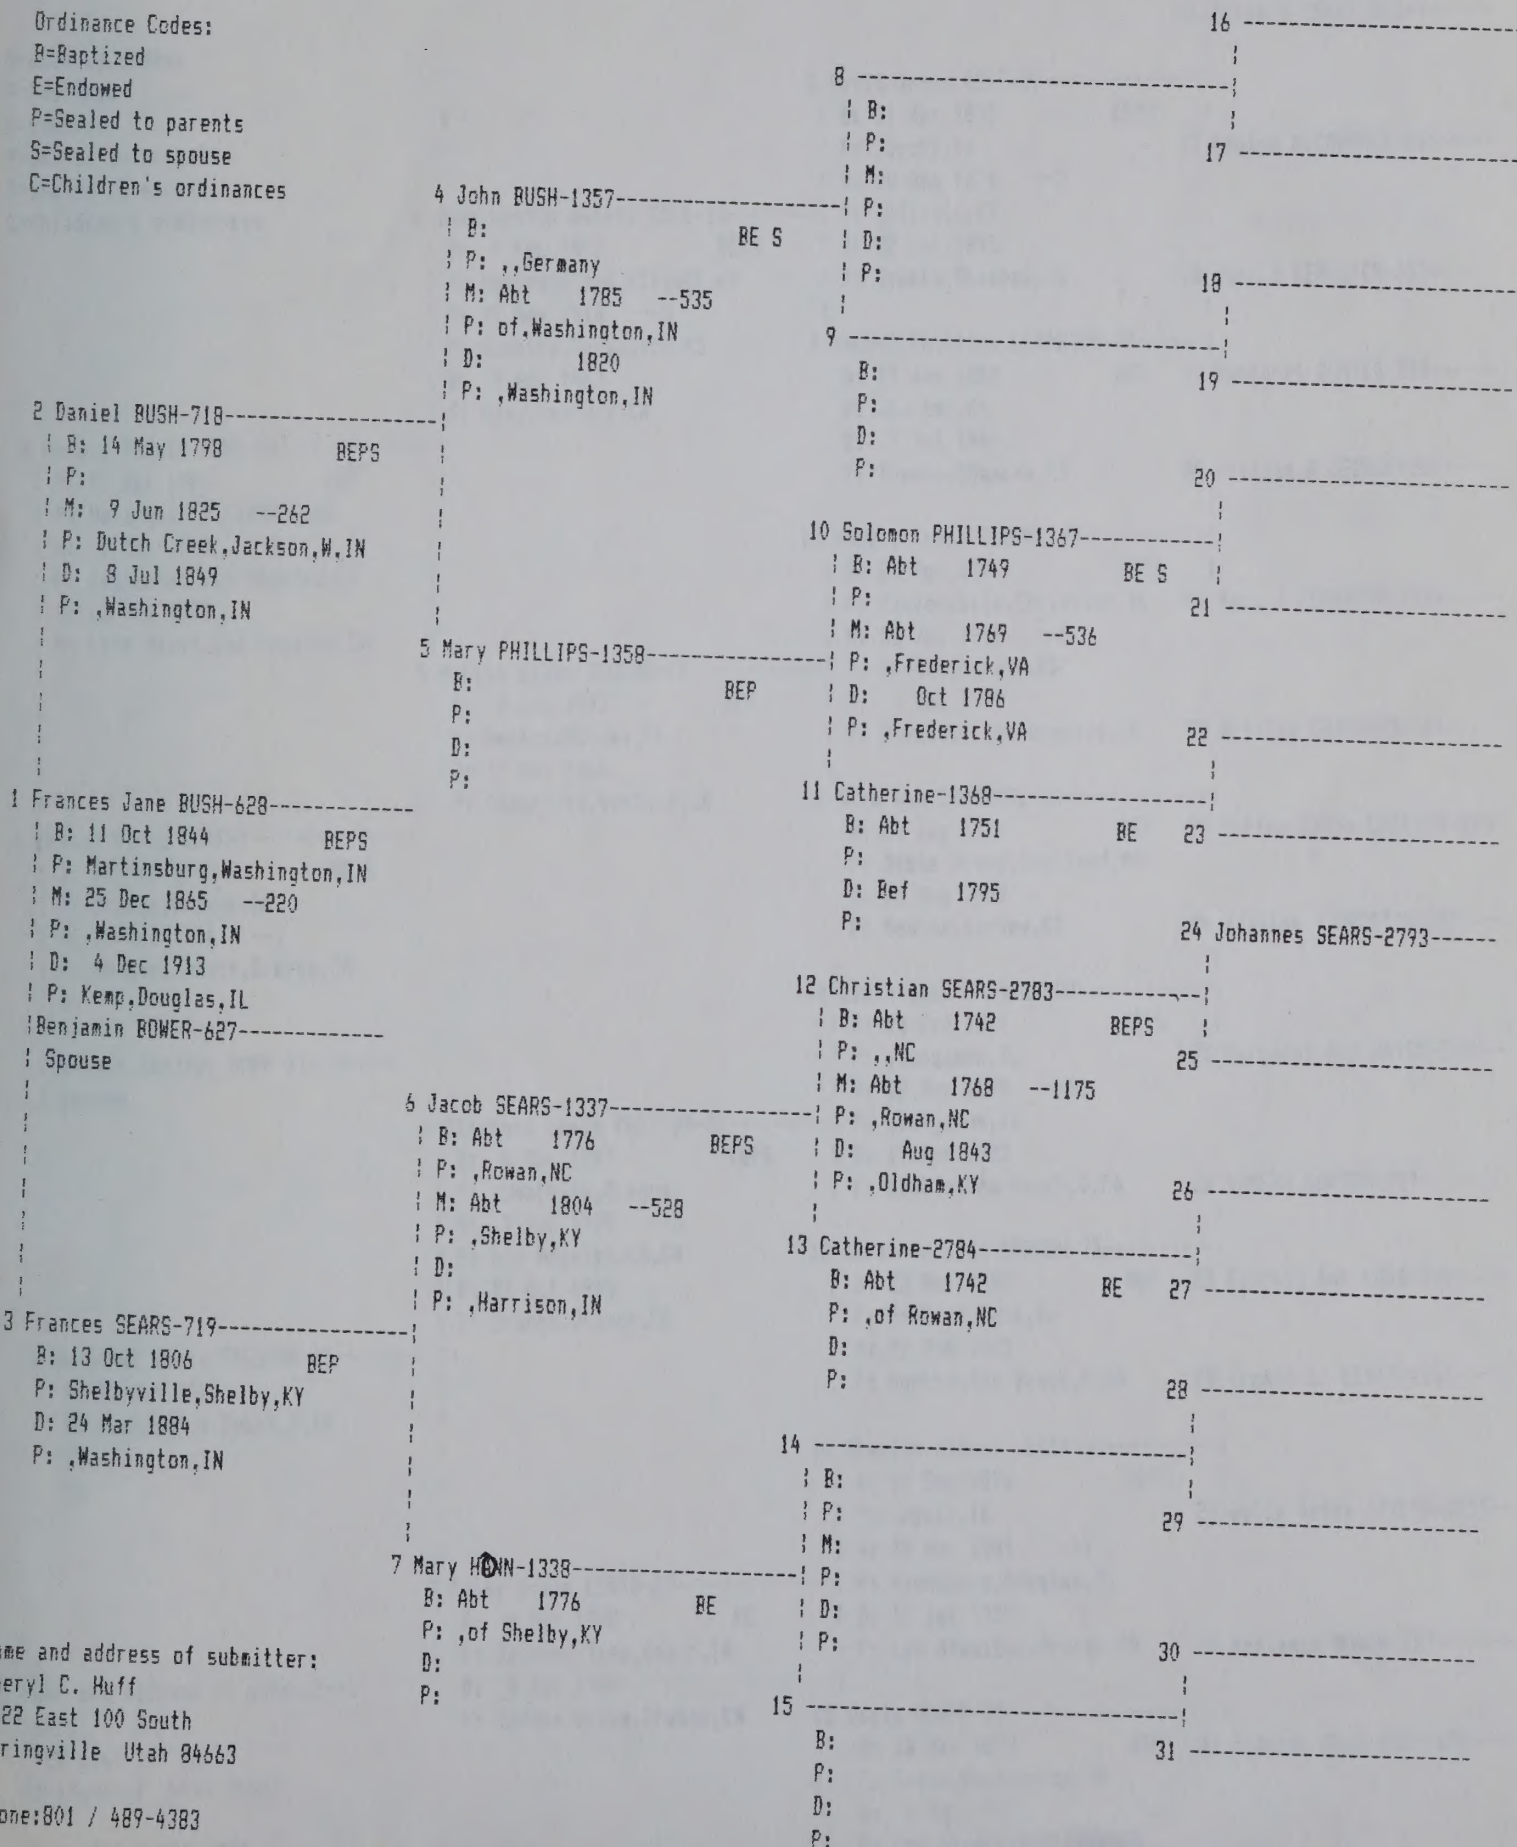

Cheryl Huff

FROM THE FAMILY OF CLEVELAND - HON - MARLETT - WELLS - RUTLEDGE -

Mrs. Cheryl C. Huff

Springville, Utah 84663

Dear Cheryl

First off, I don't have an answer to who your Mary Honn's parents were. So the rest of the letter is just blabbing.

I'm descended from Jonas Hon and Mary Keithley Rowland Hon. Another genealogist has looked for Mary Hon and believed she might have been their child. However, I've found most people don't believe that. Jonas and Mary Keithley Rowland were married in 1779, and the Mary in question is a bit older than their child would be.

Jonas Hon lived in Nicholas Co., and his brother, Joseph, lived in Montgomery Co. You list Mary Hon as being from Shelby Co., but that's not too far away.

I think Jonas and Joseph's children have been pretty well documented. However, according to one KY history, they had a brother, Daniel, who also came to KY. I've never found anything about him.

I'd be interested in what you have about the origin of Jonas and Joseph Hon. The first time I pick up Jonas is in N. Carolina, Rowan Co. He is married to Mary Rowland at the time of the sale of her late husband, Jacob Rowland, in 1779. Tradition says they came from Pennsylvania.

The Sears and Hon families have been intermingled at least since they were in N. Carolina. Jonas and Mary came to KY about 1780.

You have Catherine "Katie" Hon m. to George Jacob Sears. Also, another daughter of Jonas and Mary married a Sears--John Sears, s/o John and Catherine Conrad Sears.

I have a Solomon Sears m. Mary B. Hon (d/o John Hon and Ruth Huffstedler). However, that Mary Hon was b. 1804. So that's not the one you're looking for.

There's no doubt that the Mary Honn you mention is related to our gang, but I don't know how. When I noted you referred to them as Honn, I figured you came from the Central IL group. Sure enough, I notice Frances Jane Bush died in Kemp, Douglas Co. IL. When Jonas's son, Daniel, went there, he spelled his name Honn. When Jonas's son, Jacob, (from whom I'm descended) came to White Co., he spelled it Hon. Believe it or not, I've found it spelled 10 different ways--and it's such a simple name.

I used to teach in Douglas Co., so have been to Kemp and surrounding areas many times. That group has a different story about the origin of the Hons in the US than our group. Of course, each group thinks they're right!

Some years ago a Mormon was here, working on Hons. I told her if she got all the Hons sealed, heaven would be a crowded place.

If you find out who Mary Honn was, I'd appreciate hearing. I'm curious about how you came upon my name.

Sincerely

Charlene
